

Why does attendance matter?

Attending school every day is essential to ensuring your son/daughter is to make the most of their ability and does well at school.

Your child will also have the opportunity to:

- ~ Make lots of friends and feel included
- ~ Learn new things and develop many skills
- ~ Increase in confidence and self esteem
- ~ Improve social skills
- ~ Achieve potential and fulfil aspirations

Absences could leave your son/daughter unsure about their work, finding it hard to catch up and they could become fearful of getting left behind.

Statistics show that young people who truant or have poor attendance are more likely to get into trouble or even danger.

Many prospective employers or colleges ask for information on a student's attendance before they ask questions on honesty or their exam results.

Attendance for Achievement

Research from the Department for Education found that for secondary school students with full attendance, they were 2.2 times more likely to achieve 5 GCSE grades 9-4 than those who missed 15-20% of school. Statistically, it only takes 17 days off a year for your child to drop a GCSE grade.

In an exam you may be asked a question and it may be a topic that was discussed on a day when you were away.

If you are borderline 3/4 at GCSE and you can't answer that question in the exam you could find you have dropped to a 3 just because you missed the lesson.

If you achieve 5 GCSE's grade 9-4 then you could increase your wages by 40%.

ATTENDANCE

What is good attendance?

Whilst 90% sounds like good attendance, this actually constitutes half a day off every week.

100%	0 days Missed
95%	9 days of Absence. 1 week and 4 days of learning missed
90%	19 days of Absence. 3 weeks and 4 days of learning missed
85%	28 days of Absence. 5 weeks and 3 days of learning missed
80%	38 days of Absence. 7 weeks and 3 days of learning missed
75%	46 days of Absence. 9 weeks and 1 day of learning missed

At 90%, School will work together with the family, EWS and the child to improve attendance

A child who has been on 80% throughout their secondary years will have missed an entire year's worth of learning.

Each school day is split into two sessions, the morning AM session and the afternoon PM session.

What do we do to ensure good attendance?

- ~ We emphasise the importance of good attendance.
- ~ We reward good attendance
- ~ We do not authorise absences without a good reason.

If you are absent -

We contact your parents/carers if we do not know why you are absent.

If attendance problems continue we meet with you and your parents/carers to discuss the way forward.

If your attendance still does not improve we may refer you to the school's Education Welfare Officer (EWO) or issue a Penalty Notice Fine

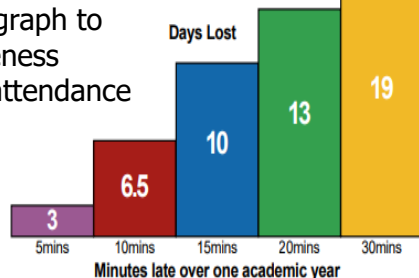

If meeting with the EWO still does not bring improvement in attendance your parents/carers become liable to Penalty Notice Fines and even prosecution in court.

Every minute counts

School starts at 8.35

Look at the graph to see how lateness impacts on attendance

Parents/carers are legally obliged to make sure their son/daughter attends school regularly.
