JULY Wed 2nd Year 6 Tranistion Day/Evening A massive congratulations to Franky Kenneth, Lucas Allen and Lucas Brann, year 8 pupils who took part in Salisbury Race for life.

All boys completed 5k and managed as a team to raise an incredible £810 for Cancer Research UK.

We are so proud of the boys and wanted to share with you about their incredible achievement.

Well done boys we are very proud of you.

Meducators Trip Highlights - A Day of Medical Discovery

A group of our students had the opportunity to attend the Meducators workshop this week, hosted by Andover College. It was a brilliant chance for students to get a first look at the college environment, including the newly refurbished study areas and impressive nursing ward facilities.

The day was packed with hands-on activities and insightful sessions, all designed to give students a deeper understanding of healthcare careers. We were incredibly proud of how well our students conducted themselves - they threw themselves into every challenge with enthusiasm and curiosity.

Session 1 - Medical Ethics: Who Gets the Liver?

Students tackled a challenging ethical dilemma: who should receive a life-saving liver transplant - a 6year-old child with autoimmune disease, a 30-year-old alcoholic single mother of two, or an 80-year-old war veteran? Summer gave a particularly thoughtful explanation of why she chose the 6-year-old. This session sparked discussion around age discrimination, addiction and recovery, and whether having dependents should affect medical decisions.

Session 2 - Reflexes and the Nervous System

Students explored what a reflex is, with Sophia giving an excellent definition. They compared the central and peripheral nervous systems and practised using tendon hammers to test reflexes. Freddie and Sophia volunteered for demonstrations before everyone paired up to try it themselves. Session 3 - Nursing Ward Skills

The students revisited DR ABC, watched a CPR demonstration, and practised the technique on mannequins. Elise, Sophia, Olivia, and Sienna led the way, with many others getting involved too. They also got to test their surgical steadiness with the game Operation; interact with 'Juno' - a high-tech dummy that mimics real patient responses; and explore practical nursing skills including catheterisation and vital sign monitoring.

Session 4 - A&E Case Study

In a simulated emergency, students worked through the case of a biker, "John Doe", involved in a crash. They analysed injuries such as head trauma, spinal fractures, and internal bleeding. The session introduced concepts like the Glasgow Coma Scale, PEARL, and spinal precautions, and guided students through emergency response, A&E procedures, and surgical preparation. They even had a demonstration of suturing on synthetic skin using medical tools.

Session 5 - Vital Signs

Students learned how to monitor blood pressure, pulse, oxygen levels, and temperature - and how these indicators help identify conditions like sepsis. They all had an opportunity to practise using manual pumps and stethoscopes, and everyone took turns checking each other's blood pressure.

Session 6 - The Heart

With a model heart, students explored the four chambers and how valve movements produce heartbeat sounds. Using stethoscopes, they listened to one another's heartbeats and discussed cardiac function.

It was a fantastic, eye-opening day at Andover College. The students were a credit to the school: enthusiastic, respectful, and never afraid to get stuck in. We hope it inspired many of them to consider future careers in healthcare!

Thank you

DOES YOUR CHILD NEED A DYSLEXIA DIAGNOSIS?

If your child has had a dyslexia screener in school and they have a result of severely or moderately dyslexic tendencies you maybe concerned about the next steps after The Stonehenge School. As a needs led school we do not need an official dyslexia diagnosis to put interventions and support in place depending on your child's needs. This is also the case at college. The need for a diagnosis comes if they go to university and even then, there are some universities that do the testing using Disabled Living Allowance funding. The British Dyslexia Association recognise that for some families the cost of this is beyond their financial means and because of this they have a bursary available to low income families. Here is the announcement from them:

The British Dyslexia Association is delighted to inform you that we are offering funded dyslexia assessment bursaries to 12-21-year-olds from low-income households. Thanks to our partnership with Theo Paphitis and Ryman, these bursaries aim to significantly reduce financial barriers to obtaining a diagnostic dyslexia assessment, which can typically cost between £500 and £800. For eligible applicants, the assessment will be provided remotely via a secure video platform such as Zoom.

While the majority of the cost is funded, a minimum contribution of £75 is required from successful applicants at the time of booking the assessment.

For those applicants who may not be successful in this phase, we will create a waitlist and will notify them when the next round of bursaries is released.

Full details of the eligibility requirements and the bursary application process can be found at: https://www.bdadyslexia.org.uk/services/assessments/assessment-bursaries/tprg-bursaries

OPPORTUNITIES

Have you ever wondered how technology in space helps us to communicate and navigate here on Earth? Could you see themselves working in a future career using space technology? Join this webinar on Tuesday 15th July at 1.30pm, when Teacher, Zoe Hobman, will deliver a virtual 45 minute Tech We Can LIVE lesson. Zoe will highlight how technology in space can help us to communicate and navigate on Earth, including how GPS helps us in our everyday lives. She will also show some of the tech careers within communication and navigation that you could pursue in the future. UK University Search's webinars are now available on demand. One of their most popular sessions is "meet the Russell Group". It's worth registering to be able to access the recordings of past sessions. They will also keep you updated with any new webinars. The National Trust is launching an apprenticeships scheme for 130 young people who might not otherwise consider a career in the National Trust. Apprenticeships will be based at locations round the country and provide opportunities for a range of careers including horticulture and countryside management, as well as project management, information technology, finance and HR. Register your interest here. If you're looking to plan university open day visits, here are some resources you can use to find dates:

- UniTasterDays has a wide range of opportunities
- OpenDays.co.uk also collates open day dates

• UCAS also have an option to look for open day dates This UCAS guide provides some inspiration for questions you could ask at university open days to make the most of the event. For College and Sixth Form open evenings, you will need to look on each individual organisations website. They usually post them in September and most Sixth Forms only have one date!
